Small Groups Offered for the Fall 2010 Semester

Special Focus: Single-Parenting

Being a single parent is hard work. Being a single parent trying to raise Godly kids is even harder. Together this group will help you face the joys and challenges that every single parent will encounter. You are not alone!

Leader: Tess Lewis

Special Focus: Healing the Broken Family

Has your family been wounded by divorce, abuse, death, addiction or poor life choices that are common in today's world? Join us as we seek support and encouragement from one another and learn practical ways to apply God's healing to our everyday lives.

Leader: Kathy Patterson

Special Focus: Parents of Children Who Have Special Needs

Parenting can be a challenge. Even more so when you have a child who has special needs. If you would like some support from other parents who are facing similar challenges, join us as we pray for and encourage each other in the parenting endeavor.

Leaders: David and Alecia Manes

Special Focus: A Discipline Formula

Discipline has often been called the "dirty work of parenting." But, it doesn't have to be that way. This group will focus on learning to develop a discipline formula that will help you in every stage of your parenting.

Leader: Jody Kingston

Special Focus: Blended Families

More than one in five families is a blended family. Blending a family is both a blessing and a challenge. This group will help guide your family through this journey as we look at areas of family life that are unique to those who re-marry.

Leaders: Richard and Debbie Wooten
